Jim Brulte is chairman of the California Republican Party, since March 3, 2013. Jim formerly served as a Republican in the California State Senate, representing the 31st district, from 1996 to 2004. He also served as the Senate Republican leader from 2000 to 2004. Jim also served as Vice-Chair of the Senate Budget and Fiscal Review Committee. He was previously the Republican Leader of the California State Assembly from 1992 to 1996. Jim is the only freshman to ever serve as a party leader in both houses of the California State Legislature.

Jim served in the California Air National Guard and graduated from California State Polytechnic University, Pomona.

JIM BRULTE

Jim was elected to the Assembly in 1990 to represent San Bernardino County's 65th District and was re-elected from the 63rd District in 1992 and 1994. When term limits forced Jim out of the Assembly, voters elected him to the State Senate in 1996 with 58% of the vote. He was re-elected in 2000 with 59% of the vote. Jim retired from the Senate in 2004 due to term limits. Jim was well liked by both his Republican and Democratic Colleagues and was a consensus builder who also never veered from his solid Republican principles.

Jim considered running for the State Board of Equalization in 2006; however, he decided not to run against Michelle Steel, the eventual victor. Jim stepped aside for the sake of G.O.P. unity - an unselfish move that was symbolic of his Republican principles.

Following disappointing results in California for Republicans in the 2010 and 2012 elections, Jim was widely encouraged to run for the chairmanship of the California Republican Party and was elected chairman on March 3, 2013.

TOTAL DEMOCRATIC CONTROL?

By Carl Burton

It only takes 17 seats won in the House of Representatives for Democrats to regain control

In 2012 California Republican Congressman Elton Gallegly retired and was succeeded by Democrat Julia Brownley.

Republican Congressman Dan Lungren was defeated by Ami Bera, Congresswoman Mary Bono Mack lost to Raul Ruiz and Congressman Brian Bilbray lost to Scott Peters. That's four - that's right - four California Republicans lost seats in the House and now President Obama is only 17 seats away from again taking total control of all breaches of the federal government.

The last time the Democrats were in total control, look what happened. We got Obamacare! Remember what Nancy Pelosi said back in 2010: "We (Congress) have to pass the bill so that you can see what is in it."

What will the Democrats do with Immigration, the Second Amendment or energy policy if they gain control of the House and continue to hold the Senate?

TOTAL DEMOCRATIC CONTROL, TWO?

By Carl Burton

For the past forty-two years the Democrats have held control of our California Legislature

This is why we say no person's life, liberty or property is safe while the California legislature is in session.

And after the 2012 election the Democrats took total control with a two-thirds majority in each house of our Legislature giving them unfettered power that no party had held for over 80 years in California.

It was only when a Democrat state senator resigned and Republican Andy Vidak was able to win a special election put a stop to Democrats total control of our state senate.

It also put a stop to unleashing years of Democrat desires to increase spending, two-third voter approval for new bonds, changing Prop. 13 to increase property taxes and amending the state tax code and imitative process.

Then the Democrats lost total

TOTAL CONTROL, TWO?

control of the State Assembly when three Democrats lost their seats.

After the 2012 election, Jim Brulte said, "If you are a Democrat, the good news is that your party is 100 percent in charge of state government. If you're a Democrat, the bad news is that you don't get to blame anybody else if things go wrong. So Democrats own it."

Unless Republicans are able to win the Governor race and some legislative seats this coming November the Democrats will be back in total control of California. In the past I've had some influential Republicans tell me that when a Republican candidate didn't agree with their opinions 100 percent, they would tell their friends to not vote for that candidate - to stay home and "send a message" to the voters. In my view, if a Republican candidate agrees with me 60 or 70 percent, I will vote for them because I believe that any Republican will make a better legislator than any Democrat will.

Is the future you want one that is under the total control of the Democrats? Is this the future you want for your children and grandchildren?

If not, work to elect Republicans!

By Emma Lazarus

Not like the brazen giant of Greek fame,
With conquering limbs astride from land to land;
Here at our sea-washed, sunset gates shall stand A mighty woman with a torch, whose flame Is the imprisoned lightning,
and her name Mother of Exiles.
From her beacon-hand Glows world-wide welcome; her mild eyes command
The air-bridged harbor that twin cities frame.
"Keep, ancient lands,
your storied pomp!" cries she With silent lips. "Give me your tired, your poor, Your huddled masses yearning to breathe free,
The wretched refuse of your teeming shore. Send these, the homeless, tempest-tost to me, I lift my lamp beside the golden door!"

SENATOR SCHUMER AND BENGHAZI

By Robert Evans

Senator Schumer (D., New York) met with President Obama's Chief of Staff Michael Lynch, former Schumer Deputy Press Secretary Christopher Scribener and Legal Counsel to the President Pete Rouse on the afternoon or early evening of September 11, 2012 at the DPCC. This meeting took place during the terrorist attack on the American facility located in Benghazi Libya. Later that afternoon Senator Schumer entered the White House (at 5:30 PM) and stayed until midnight.

This is one of those interesting facts seemingly overlooked by the main stream media. But it does make one wonder—what was Senator Schumer doing?
